FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

2024 NAPE SUMMIT ATTENDEE REGISTRATION SURGES 47% OVER PRIOR YEAR

The world's largest prospect energy expo returns to Houston Feb. 7-9.

FORT WORTH, TEXAS — Nov. 8, 2023 — NAPE — the place where deals happen — is packing Houston's George R. Brown Convention Center with dealmakers and decision-makers from companies large and small representing all facets of energy. As of NAPE's "preferred rate" deadline, attendee registration for the 2024 NAPE Summit is up a whopping 47% compared with the same time frame for the 2023 expo.

"This impressive increase in attendees reflects the optimism and resilience of the energy industry and serves as a testament to the value this premier event brings to the energy sector," said NAPE Vice President Le'Ann Callihan. "For more than three decades, NAPE has created a high-energy marketplace that brings together buyers, sellers, financiers, service providers — all the players needed — to learn, share ideas, network and make deals happen."

Prospect generators have always been the backbone of NAPE. In addition to oil and gas prospects, the expanding NAPE Hubs will focus on Renewable Energy, Bitcoin Mining and — new for 2024 — Minerals & Royalties. Summit is also the ideal place to showcase the latest energy innovations, technologies and services, enabling exhibitors to tap into NAPE's vast network of attendees, expand business opportunities and contribute to the advancement of the industry.

"One of the things that makes NAPE so special is it is hosted by the energy industry, for the energy industry, with proceeds benefiting the energy industry," said NAPE Director Drew Guntert, CEM. "NAPE net profits are distributed directly to our partners — AAPL, IPAA, SEG and AAPG, respected associations that champion the energy industry at large through education, legislative advocacy, technical publications, scholarships and much more."
